Tekle Woldemikael, Chair of the Sociology Department, is a Professor of Sociology. His research interest involves studying immigrants and refugees, racial identity, ethnicity and nationalism, language and public policy. He teaches Social Theory, Integrative Seminar, Race and Ethnic Relations, and African Society. He is an author of the book Becoming Black American: Haitians and American Institutions in Evanston, Illinois, and is working on a book titled The Invention of Eritrean National Identity. He co-edited a special issue of The American Sociologist on "Racial Diversity in Becoming a Sociologist." His articles have appeared in numerous journals and edited books. He earned his Ph.D. at Northwestern University.