HON 399/499
Individual Study

Credits:
½ to 6 credits

Catalog Description:
Prerequisite, acceptance to the University Honors Program, or consent of instructor. The student initiates and conducts an in-depth study or research in a specific area in conjunction with an individual faculty member. May be repeated for credit. (Offered as needed.) ½ to 6 credits.

Course Objectives:
To provide the student an opportunity to pursue independent study or research of subject not covered by regular program course offerings.

Current Required Text:
Specific to the nature of the individual research project as developed by the student’s faculty supervisor.

Essential Facilities and Equipment:
None

Major Study Units:
Arranged between student and faculty member.

Instructional Strategies:
Each student will work with the assigned faculty member to develop individualized learning goals.

Methods of Evaluation:
Arranged between student and faculty member.

Bibliography:
None.

Last revised: Fall 2010